PREFACE.

The first edition of this List was issued in 1880, and combined in one alphabet the periodical sets of nine libraries located in San Francisco and vicinity. The second edition of 1892 included the sets in twelve libraries. In view of our greatly increased resources, of this nature, and in response to urgent demand, the present edition has been prepared, through the courtesy and by the united effort of my brothers-in-arms, to whom I return sincere thanks.

It is a matter of much regret that, with the closing of the Odd Fellows' Library of San Francisco, a few sets like the Sacramento State Sentinel of 1857–58 and the Oriental, 1857, have temporarily (we hope) disappeared.

EXPLANATIONS.

This list includes serial publications—magazines, newspapers, and the publications of societies, but with few exceptions not governmental, state, or municipal documents and reports.

Magazines and reviews are entered under the first word of their titles not an article or preposition.

American and British (including colonial) societies are entered under the first word of their corporate names; other foreign societies are entered under place of publication. From the Annales, Bulletin, Journal, Mémoires, or Zeitschrift of such foreign societies reference has been made to place of publication.

Newspapers also have been entered under place, unless their titles begin with the name of a state or county, in which case entry is made under that name. Thus: "Amador dispatch. Jackson."

Incomplete sets are indicated by volumes or years within parentheses following the initial letter representing a library;—when the set is much broken, or the volumes are not definitely known, the library initial is starred.

The customary abbreviations are used.
